

Barbara J. Falk teaches international relations, security studies, and comparative genocide at the Canadian Forces College/Royal Military College of Canada, and is the author of The Dilemmas of Dissidence: Citizen Intellectuals and Philosopher Kings (2003). Her work focuses on the persecution and prosecution of dissent, and she is currently writing a comparative text on political trials in Eastern Europe and the United States in the early Cold War.