

Edward Teather-Posadas is a PhD Student at Colorado State University Department of Economics, where he is completing his studies in Political Economy and Development. His research interests include Methodologies and Ethics of Economics, Rhetoric of Economics, Philosophy of Science and Economics, History of Economic Thought and Economic Development.